

CHATELAINE

FEBRUARY 1990 $2.00

Having it all, doing it all ARE WOMEN CHUMPS?

DOUBLE-DUTY DRESSING

How to give your daytime wardrobe
after-hours chic

AFTER-BABY SHAPE-UP

How to reclaim your shape

20 recipes that remove the fat but not the sizzle

Look out, Oprah
Dini's red-hot!

Dini Petty
CTV host

Christine Hains

Depends on a neutral pantsuit to do double duty A.M. & P.M.

Christine Hains, a free-lance interior designer, has a sleek fashion look based on spare neutral suits. At work (left), Hains sports a double-breasted wool-crepe pantsuit in sage green with a sheer wrap blouse in an ivory georgette chiffon. The jacket, $285, matching pants, $165, and blouse, $125, are all from Peter Nygård Signature Collection. Christine reinforces her no-fuss look with simple refined jewelry—big pearl-and-gold button earrings and a strand of pearls. Earrings, Alfred Sung. Pearls, Vendome. For dinner with fiancé William Moskalyk (below), the same suit, minus the blouse, gives Christine a touch of sexy décolletage. Crystal drop earrings also spark a P.M. look. Earrings, Chenessa II. Photographed at Scaramouche. Hair, Ingrid Reinhart/Reinhart McMillan. Makeup, Julie Bégin.

a.m.

p.m.

